HCI Assignment

Design and create two different user interfaces (web/ mobile) for entering field observation data for the forest tree census application: Date and time of observation, tree name ,tree type, GPS location and measurements need to be entered to a web application and mobile application. Critique on both user interfaces taking into account the design and general UI principles and also evaluate the time efficiency of two different user interfaces (assuming expert users).